Welcome

Pearson Edexcel International Advanced Level (IAL) qualifications have been designed with the global learner in mind. They differ from A levels in that they have a flexible, modular structure, but maintain the rigorous standards of all Pearson Edexcel qualifications and are comparable to the UK A level, as confirmed by NARIC*.

Developed in consultation with the international school community, including a large number of teachers and university lecturers, these globally recognised qualifications open doors to universities worldwide, giving students the necessary skills to support progression to higher and further study.

Available in 21 popular subjects and designed to be engaging for international learners, they offer progression from International GCSEs to equip students with the knowledge and skills they need for a successful future. In 2018 we launched 8 updated subjects – Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Business, Economics, Mathematics, Further Mathematics and Pure Mathematics and also a brand new Information Technology qualification, which our schools started teaching in September 2018.

IAL qualifications are not available in the UK, the Channel Islands, the Isle of Man or in British Armed Forces schools overseas.

Why choose Pearson Edexcel IALs?

100% externally assessed

Learners can resit individual unit examinations.

Flexible and modular structure

The flexible modular approach takes a synoptic approach to assessment, which means learners are examined on their learning from each unit and are also able to demonstrate their knowledge and understanding across the whole subject.

Unlike a linear structure, where assessment is taken at the end of a two year course, the results from each module provide formal feedback throughout the course. This means learners can quickly grasp the standard required to reach the level they are aiming for. This understanding motivates students to improve, and builds a sense of ownership through bite-size, short-term goals.

Multiple examination opportunities

Examinations are available for many subjects in January, June and October, with all subjects offering at least two assessment opportunities as standard*. As exams are spread throughout the course, there are less high stakes assessments, enabling learners to focus their revision appropriately. Learners can resit individual unit examinations.

Accessible examination papers

At Pearson Edexcel, we develop our examination papers over a two-year period. The papers go through a rigorous world class assessment design process, which ensures that the content is relevant for international learners, and there is a clear and consistent relationship between command words, marks and skills. With logical progression of difficulty throughout and consistency in template and design, our question papers are clear and provide suitable challenge and support for students of all ability ranges.

IAS results contribute to IAL grade

International AS qualifications can be taken separately as a stand alone qualification, or used as a stage on the way to completing an International Advanced Level qualification. This provides international schools and learners with greater choice and flexibility to meet their needs and aspirations.

Recognised by universities worldwide

Fully comparable to UK reformed GCE A levels, as confirmed by NARIC, Pearson Edexcel IALs provide learners with access to the world's top universities and prestigious employment opportunities. They are recognised by leading universities across the world, including Oxford, Cambridge, Columbia, Yale, MIT, Caltech, Hong Kong / China University of Science and Technology and the National University of Singapore.

Internationally relevant content

Pearson Edexcel IAL qualifications and accompanying published resources contain international content where possible, such as topic themes, examples, case studies and photos, making content more relevant and engaging for all learners. Language is also reviewed by a specialist to ensure materials are written with EAL learners in mind, in a clear and accessible style.

With the exception of IAL Information Technology which offers June examination only.*

Developing transferable skills valued by universities and employers

In recent years, universities and employers have highlighted the need for students and graduates to develop a range of transferable skills, often referred to as 'soft skills', to enable them to better meet the demands of undergraduate study and the world of work.

In fact, universities and employers consider transferable skills to be the largest skills gap overall.

1 in 6

employers have difficulty finding candidates with the skills they require¹

54%

of companies say that skills shortages impact their ability to serve their customers²

1 in 3

skills in a job posting is a "soft skill"¹

87%

of university professors do not think students have the research skills needed for degree-level study³

Pearson Edexcel International Advanced Levels (IALs) equip students with these embedded transferable skills sought after by universities and employers. They develop core competencies, such as problem-solving, critical thinking and verbal reasoning. Transferable skills are signposted in our IAL qualifications and published teaching and learning resource so students know the skills they are developing throughout their studies.

Prepare your learners for more than just a grade

We've provided skills mapping and transferable skills subject definitions documents for your subject area, so you can easily identify what skills can be developed in your day to day teaching. 22 GROWING ECONOMIES

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

By the end of this chapter you should be able to understand:

- the characteristics of developed, developing and emerging economies
- the growing economic power of countries within Asia, Africa and other parts of the world
- implications of economic growth for individuals and businesses: trade opportunities for businesses and employment patterns
- indicators of growth: gross domestic product (GDP) per capita and the human development index (HDI).

GETTING STARTED

True Indulgence is a holiday company based in the Maldives. It offers high-quality luxury accommodation on an island in the Maldives. A two-week holiday would cost two people up to $20 000. Two popular features of the holiday are scuba diving and fine dining.

Country	GDP per capita (US$)	Population
Argentina	12 440.30	43 847 430
Australia	49 755.30	24 210 810
Bangladesh	1 358.80	162 951 560
Brazil	8 649.90	207 652 860
Canada	42 348.90	36 264 600
Costa Rica	11 824.60	4 857 270
Iceland	60 529.90	335 440
India	1 709.60	1 324 171 350
Luxembourg	100 738.70	582 010
Switzerland	79 887.50	8 372 410
USA	57 638.20	323 127 510
Spain	26 616.50	46 484 530

▲ Table 1 GDP (income) per capita and total population in a selection of countries (2016)

Which three countries might True Indulgence target with their advertising campaigns? Explain your answer. What other information might be useful for True Indulgence to know before finalising the decision? Suggest three types of business that might be interested in selling goods or services to India. Explain your answers.

CHARACTERISTICS OF ECONOMIES AT DIFFERENT STAGES OF DEVELOPMENT

There is a vast difference between the welfare and prosperity (i.e. success in making money) of people around the world. People experience a comfortable existence in only a minority of countries. They have access to good healthcare, education, housing and high-quality food. They may also have spare income to spend on non-essential items such as holidays, entertainment and leisure activities.

In contrast, large numbers of people struggle to gain enough food, safe accommodation and clean water. They may have little or no education and very limited access to healthcare. They would never take a holiday and often have low life expectancy. Other large groups of people fall in between these two extremes. Economies where these different groups of people live are defined as follows.

the advertising of deciding which campaigns in three is the GDP (income) per capita of a selection of countries.

Sample from Pearson Edexcel International AS/A Level Business Student Book 2

The Specification is fully matched by the content of each Unit or Topic in the Student Books.

Subject vocabulary is highlighted on first mention in the text and at the end of each section. Definitions have been reviewed by an EAL specialist.

Key assessment objectives are listed at the start of each chapter.

Introductory activity to stimulate discussion and prior knowledge.

Thinking like an economist explores aspects of economics in more detail to deepen understanding.

THINKING LIKE AN ECONOMIST

INCOME INEQUALITY Whether income inequality, the relative gap between the rich and poor in an economy is important or not, is dependent on one's personal opinion. Some economic journalists have said that income inequality is not a problem while others assert that it is. The question of what level of income inequality is acceptable is a difficult one to answer, because it can be seen from a normative or positive perspective.

In economics, a normative statement is one that is subjective and value based, while a positive statement is one that is objective and based on facts. From a normative perspective, the numbers are arbitrary (random). Looking at the economic data from a positive perspective, the conclusions are clearer.

From a positive perspective, there are some answers as to what is not an acceptable level of inequality, and there are non-partisan, economic implications of today's level of income inequality. Recent studies by the International Monetary Fund (IMF) suggest that income inequality can affect economic growth as measured by percentage change in gross domestic product (GDP).

If the share of income earned by the top 20 per cent increases, then GDP growth actually declines. In contrast, when the share of income of the bottom 20 per cent increases, there is higher GDP growth. The analysis from the IMF reveals that significant levels of income inequality cause GDP growth to decline.

The normative statement that rising income inequality is bad for the economy becomes a positive statement when reinforced by analysis of data. Thus government actions such as cutting taxes would be counterintuitive to economic growth if it does nothing to address income inequality.

CHECKOUT

1. What is the scientific method?
2. Why do economists use models?
3. Why do some people argue that economics is not a science?
4. What does ceteris paribus mean?
5. Why do economists use ceteris paribus?
6. What is the difference between a normative and a positive economic statement?

SUBJECT VOCABULARY

ceteris paribus – all things being equal; the assumption that, while the effects of a change in one variable are being investigated, all other variables are kept constant.

law – a theory or model which has been verified by empirical evidence.

normative economics – the study and presentation of policy prescriptions involving value judgements about the way in which scarce resources are allocated.

normative statement – a statement which cannot be supported or refuted because it is a value judgement.

positive economics – the scientific or objective study of the allocation of resources.

positive statement – a statement which can be supported or refuted by evidence.

scientific method – a method which subjects theories or hypotheses to being disproved by empirical evidence.

social science – the study of societies and human behaviour using a variety of methods, including the scientific method.

theory or model – a hypothesis which is capable of refutation by empirical evidence.

disposable income – the amount of money you have left to spend after you have paid your taxes, bills etc.

empirical – based on scientific testing or practical experience, not on ideas.

good – a thing that is produced in order to be sold.

hypothesis (plural: hypotheses) – an idea that is suggested as an explanation for something, but that has not yet been proved to be true.

inequality – an unfair situation, in which some groups in society have more money, opportunities, or power than others.

production possibility Frontier – shows how much an economy can produce given existing resources

I like the modular nature of IAL, the fact that I can choose whichever core units I want to do, whichever applied units I want to do. It's very comprehensive. It opens up many doors to many international universities. ”
