BTEC International Level 3
University Recognition

These universities have indicated that they will consider one or more of the BTEC International Level 3 qualifications for undergraduate study. Students should be aware that university admission criteria are always subject to change and understand the course entry requirements for both subject and grade before applying.

Students should also be aware that a university's approach to admissions may vary by country. For example, in the UK, universities are more open to considering a combination of smaller BTEC level 3 qualifications (Diploma, Foundation Diploma, etc) and A Levels. Whereas in the Netherlands, students with BTEC should only consider universities of applied sciences, and with a BTEC Level 3 Extended Diploma.

Universities not listed may also consider BTEC for progression, therefore, students should plan progression routes and contact potential universities prior to commencing a course of study at Level 3.

This list is continually being updated as we receive information from universities. Please let us know if you need us to discuss consideration of BTEC with a university. You can email us at progression@pearson.com
